THE GENESIS OF AIWC
(All India Women's Conference)

THE GENESIS OF AIWC

The All India Women's Conference owes its origin to Mrs. Margaret E. Cousins who in the Autumn of 1926, as Secretary of the Women's Indian Association, Adayar, Madras, addressed an appeal to women all over the country to form local committees and hold Constituent Conferences in each of the provinces and in certain other clearly defined districts and Indian States for the purpose of declaring their views on women's education.

The original stimulus which gave rise to Mrs. Cousin's letter was an appeal made by the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, at the Prize Giving Function of the Bethune College, Calcutta, in which he called on Indian women to "tell us with one voice what they want and keep on telling us till they get it". Mr. A.L. Huidekoper, a fomer principal of the Bethune College, made use of the appeal as the basis of two articles which were published in Stri Dharma, the monthly magazine of the Women's Indian Association; and it was following this that Mrs. Cousin's took up the matter. Thus started the eventful journey of the AIWC, an organization that grew to assume leadership among all organizations fighting for women's rights and equality.

CONFERENCES: PAST TO PRESENT

1. The first conference

Mrs. Cousin's appeal met with wide and enthusiastic response and conferences were held in 22 different places during the months of September and December 1926 and the first All India Women's Conference was organized to take place at Poona, where it was held from 5^h to 8th January, 1927 under the distinguished President ship of Her Highness, the Maharani Chimanbhai Saheb Gaekwad of Baroda, Mrs. Cousins, being the First Honorary Organizing Secretary. The resolutions passed during that Conference related almost without exception to education, ranging from matters concerning primary schools up to College and adult education. The sole and notable exception was a resolution condemning the practice of Early Marriage, as it interfered with education, and supporting Sir Hari Singh Gour's Age of Consent Bill, which were about to come up before the Legislative Assembly.

- 2. The second conference was held in Delhi in 1928, under the presidentship of Her Highness, the Begum Mother of Bhopal. The proceeding was opened by Her Excellency Lady Irwin (Vicereine of India). In addition to reaffirming most of the resolutions of the first conference notable resolutions were passed relating to Rai Saheb Harbilas' Sarda Bill for the restraint on early marriage, which was at that time under consideration and urging the Government to give representation to women in the Central Legislature. The second conference was also noteworthy for the Origin of the All India Women's Education Fund, with which Lady Irwin College was later founded.
- 3. The third conference was held in 1929 in Patna, with Her Highness the Dowager Rani of Mandi as President. It was on this occasion that the scope of the Conference was definitely widened to include Social Reform. In the AIWC a separate section for social reforms, was also created to work along the Section for social reforms. Committees were appointed to carry on work throughout the year.
- 4. The fourth conference was held in 1930 in Bombay under the Presidentship of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu. The report for the year 1929, shows that prominent among the list of reforms affected through the support of the Conference and its members was the passing of the Sarda Act. Following up that success, the Social Reforms Section of the Conference took a very active part in the agitation for reform of the laws of inheritance affecting women. A new field of work, in connection with women labour, was opened up through the opportunity of giving evidence before Labour Commission and by the delegation of distinguished members to the International Conference such as the Berlin International Congress of Women for Suffrage and Equal Citizenship. It was in 1930, that the Committee of Education Fund which had been registered the year before as the All India Women's Education Fund Association decided to make a full enquiry about a suitable educational curriculum for girls. An All India Committee was appointed to investigate this matter.

- Reddy as the President. The report for 1930, showed the observance of 1st March, as "Women's Day" and the holding of meetings in almost all the branches on that day to popularize and explain the work of the Conference, Vigorous and well timed propaganda was carried on with a view to safeguard the Sarda Act from amendments designed to nullify its usefulness, work was undertaken in Baroda towards getting the State to lead the way in putting on the Statute Book A Divorce Act For Hindus. The question of Abolition Of Untouchability began to be tackled, too in some constituencies, notably in Madras.
- 6. The sixth conference was held during January 1932 in Madras, under the Presidentship of Mrs. P.K. Ray. In reviewing the report for the year 1931 it was clearly seen that although the constitution of the Conference debarred if from taking part in party politics, it could not, if it were to perform its function of establishing women in their rightful position in the State and society, avoid concerning itself with politics in the widest sense of the term. The Status of women in the new Constitution of India, particularly in relation to their fundamental rights, their representation on the various bodies, and the conditions for their enfranchisement were matters of vital importance not only to politicians, but to the whole country and it was overwhelmingly felt that every opportunity must be taken before the Constitution was actually drawn up in detail, to impress upon those concerned with framing it. To this end, in April 1931 a representative meeting was held in Bombay, under the Presidentship of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, the outcome of which was that the All India Women's Conference, the Women's India Association and the National Council of Women in India, conjointly drew up a Memorandum to be placed before the franchise Sub-Committee of the Round Table Conference after the approval of the branches.
- 7. The seventh conference held in Lucknow in 1933, under the Presidentship of Lady Vidyagauri Ramanbhai Nilkanth. In 1932, representing the viewpoint of Indian Womanhood on the constitutional question, had remained uppermost owing to the fact that the Indian Franchise Committee was occupied with its labour in India and the standing Committee of the Conference felt it obligatory that it should continue to press the view in the memorandum presented the year before, to the Round Table Conference. Nine members of the All India Women's Conference gave evidence at various centres, that of Rajkumari Amrit Kaur (Chairwoman of the Standing Committee) being specially note worthy. There were a number of instances in which members of the conference were successful in Contesting on terms of Equality with men, in elections for seats in Municipal Corporation and academic bodies of universities. The opening of the Lady Irwin College for Home Science at Delhi, on November 10, 1932 was the event of the year in the educational section, concrete evidence of the value of the work which had quietly and steadily been proceeding since starting of the Educational fund years ago.

- 8. The eighth conference was held at Calcutta, in December, 1933, Lady Abdul Qadir being the President on the occasion. The report for the year 1933 showed that the most prominent feature of the work of 1933, had again been a political one. The publication of the White Paper showed that the attempt made in 1931 and 1932 to gain equal status had completely failed and so it became necessary to frame a second Memorandum. This Memorandum was submitted to the joint Parliamentary Committee of the British Parliament and later, three elected members representing the Conference as also the National Council of Women in India, and the Women's Indian Association were invited to London to give evidence before the joint Parliamentary Committee. Through Memorandum II and the firm stand taken by our delegates in giving their evidence, we showed that, while willing to adopt an accommodating attitude in regard to details during the period of transition. Indian women stood immovably for the Principle of equal status and against communal or special representation.
- 9. The ninth conference was held in Karachi. One very useful outcome of the political work outside India has been the many contacts that our delegates made with women's organizations of the other countries and with institutions of international programs including the various organizations connected with the League of Nations. The Ninth session of the All India Women's Conference was held in December 1934, at Karachi under the Presidentship of Mrs. Rustomji Faridoonji. The presence of distinguished special visitors like Dr. Maude Royden and Mrs. Corbett Ashby during the Conference Session was a proof of the great interest evinced by women in the ideals and problems of each other. The extracts relating to women in the Report of the joint Parliamentary Committee were studied in detail by the Conference and it was decided that even this eleventh hour efforts should again be made to impress on the British Parliament the united desire of Indian women for a non-reservation electorate for women and their protest of the wifehood qualification which was being imposed on them. A successful effort was made through the year to create a widespread demand for the appointment of a commission on the legal disabilities of Indian women which would suggest reforms in the light of modern conditions. For the first time a permanent contact was made with the British Women's Organisation. Raj Kumari Amrit Kaur was appointed as the Liaison Officer of the conference, to keep in touch with Mrs. Lankester, the Liaison Officer of the British Women's Organisation.

- 10. The tenth conference was held in Trivandrum in December 1935, under the Presidentship of Her Highness Maharani Sethu Parvatni Bai of Travancore Notable visitors from USA, China, Japan and England were present. The record of the work done in the year 1935 showed that the sub-committee on the Child Marriage Restraint Act did good work during the year. A Bulletin was issued giving the statistics of child marriage in our country. A deal of propaganda was done during the year through the Press to create opinion in favour of Amending the Sarda Act. It is a matter of pride to note that Mr. B. Dass was given permission to introduce a Bill in the Legislative Assembly to amend the Sarda Act and most of his amendments were based on the suggestions made by the Conference. A sub-committee was appointed to report on the ways and means that could be adopted for the realization of common language for India. Another Sub Committee was appointed for the spread of literacy in the country. The conference passed by a large majority, the resolution supporting the necessity for instruction in methods of Birth Control through recognized clinics. Family Planning was also discussed for the first time.
- 11. The eleventh conference was held at Ahmadabad in December, 1936 under the Presidentship of Mrs. M.C. Cousins. Overseas visitors from England, Australia, USA and Holland attended the session. By this time the AIWC took its rightful place as a representative and as fully established women's organization in India. The outstanding event of the year 1936, was the opening of the State temple of Travancore, to all classes of Hindus during the time when H.H. the Maharani Sethu Parvathi Bai was our President. A great deal of propaganda was also carried on by our constituents by holding meetings and enlisting public support for the Social Bills introduced in the Legislative Assembly, e.g. Dr. Deshmukh's Bill to amend the Hindu law governing Hindu women's rights to property Mr. B. Das' bill to amend the Sarda Act in order to make it more stringent, Dr. Bhagwan Das' bill seeking recognition of inter-caste marriage and Mr. Hafiz Abdullah's Muslim personal law application bill.
- 12. The twelfth conference of the AIWC was held at Nagpur in December, 1937, under the Presidentship of Raj Kumari Amrit Kaur, Mrs. Grace Lankester, Liaison Officer in England was present. The Standing committee prepared a program of legislation for improving the social status of women and the same was forwarded to the Prime Ministers of the new Provincial Governments and the new women members of the Legislatures. Meetings were held with regard to the legal disabilities of women and resolution expressing public opinion in the matter were forwarded to proper quarters. Mrs. S.C. - 15. The fifteenth conference of the All India Women's Conference was held in Bangalore, in December 1940, under the Presidentship of Smt. Rameswari Nehru. A welcome feature of the session was that some of our sisters from Ceylon were present. The Report showed that the branches carried on their various activities during the year. As a result of the agitation carried on by the Conference, the Government of India was persuaded to appoint a Committee to examine the injustice done to women under the Hindu Law. The Conference raised its emphatic protest against the limitation imposed by the term of the Committee so appointed.

- 16. The sixteenth conference covened in December 1941 at Kakinada, under the Presidentship of Smt. Vijayalakshmi Pandit. The Conference adopted two concrete proposals, the Village Reconstruction project and the scheme of starting a training camp for provincial organizers and other women workers. The detailed replies of the branches were consolidated and sent to the Rau Committee. In 1942 and 1943 prominent leaders were in Jail, so no conferences were held. Mrs. Renuka Ray was nominated to the Central Legislative Assembly as a Representative of the All India Women's Conference during the pendency of the Intestate Succession and Marriage Bills. Propaganda on both these Bills was carried on intensely by all the branches of the AIWC. The attention of the President was drawn to the helpless condition of thousands of destitute children in the famine area and a scheme for starting children's home was immediately undertaken. A Central fund called 'Save the Children Fund' was started. The name was subsequently changed to "All India Save the Children Committee". This later on became the foundation for The Indian Council Of Child Welfare.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Hello Sisters, welcome back to Manesar.

In last few days many of you have commented that my years as President has gone very fast.

I have been so touched by all the well-wishes that I have received. Today it's my turn to say thank you. Whether we have seen eye-to-eye or rarely agreed at all, my conversations with you, those conversations are what have kept me honest, and kept me inspired, and kept me going every day. These 3 years I have found that the President is always fully supported, people volunteer for things, "upward" praise is given, and everyone is pulling in the same direction.

A radical idea, the great gift that our Founders gave us, to strive together to achieve a common good, a greater good.

Today I proudly say on behalf of each one of you that Words are from the lips, actions are from the heart. SECRETARY GENERAL'S ADDRESS

My dear friends & colleagues

Three years ago, when I took up the position of Secretary General of AIWC, it was with a lot of excitement and apprehension as well. However, today at the end of my tenure, I must say that it has been a wonderful and rich experience for me. Each day there was something new to learn, a new idea, a prospective opportunity and task to deliver. There were number of occasions during my tenure which reinforced the feeling of pride, in being part of such an esteemed organization.

The support from the members across India has been amazing and spontaneous. Each branch, each member were ready to pitch in support for any call given by head office as well as come up with innovative ideas towards achievement of the objectives of the organization.

The journey for me has been exciting and satisfying and to a large extent I feel that I have been able to accomplish what I set out to achieve.

That said, I still feel some more could have been possible. I did try to revise and remodule some of the regular program but I feel we do need to work on it little more to make the outcome of the programs meaningful and worth showcasing. Introduction of the 'Empowerment Cell' for each zone was with this particular purpose. While the outcome of the TOT has been quite satisfactory, we can further revise it to suit the requirement of each zone.

Further, we should try to make it mandatory for each member attending the TOT to go back and disseminate the learning in her own branch. Only then we can reach out to a wider network of members and branches.

As presented above, AIWC branches are striving hard to reach out to maximum deserving beneficiaries and bring in fame to the organization. To support and probably add value to their efforts,

I would suggest the following:

(1) While some of the branches did rise to our call for more innovative programs, I strongly feel that branches should come up with newer ideas to cater to the need of the hour with specific focus on the region they are working in and the target beneficiaries they have.

As you are aware, the primary objective of the organization is 'socio-economic empowerment' and to this end any program will be successful only if the design is based on extensive survey of the area, resource availability and outcome assessment. Hence, I would once again request branches to conduct survey of their area and suggest appropriate and innovative programs to achieve meaningful results.

- (2) Another suggestion to the new team, if I may, would be to have at least one or two hours of orientation during every half yearly and annual conference for members about the history of the organization, objectives, system followed and contemporary issues of the society.
- (3) Climate change is another area of critical concern AIWC can take forward. With all the programmes undertaken during the past, right from Late Mrs. Balakrishnan's period and the following ones with support from international donors, AIWC has already made a place in the climate change arena at the national as well as international level extensively. Branches can take up programmes to further understand the impacts specific to their area and create awareness on mitigating and adapting to climate change.
- (4) Last but not least, it is equally essential for us to stay updated on the global processes and trends. I did try to align all our programs to the SDGs to project it in the international arena and that has had tremendous results. Through several international projects, we successfully showcased AIWC's work under several goals and targets of development agenda.

I strongly recommend continuation of this practice to make AIWC programmes more contemporary and have better outcomes.

For whatever has been possible for me to achieve, I must sincerely thank President, Rakeshji and Treasurer Dr. Manju Kak for all their support and cooperation. My sincere gratitude to each and every staff of HOW for standing by me, for going along my dependence on them, for sharing goodies cooked by them lovingly, for coming around and cheering me the day I felt drained or exhausted and for reminding me to relax when I got hyper. Coming to office every day became enjoyable only because of them. I also take this opportunity to wish President Elect Mrs. Sheela Kakde the very best in her new position and all success for the incoming team under her guidance and leadership. I also would like to pledge my continued support to the new team as well as all the members and this great organization for times to come.

Warm regards to all,

Kalyani Raj

- Post Muzzafarpur short stay home case, an inter- organization consultation was held on 7 August 2018. A decision taken in the meeting:
 - The social auditing of short stay homes must be done frequently and blanket powers must be given to the investigative agency. The NGO members working in this field should be made members of such committees.

The programme is conducted in three stages in gaps of three months and visible improvement in the HB level of those found anaemic is found at the end of six months.

The project has two stages - In the first stage; blood is tested through a team of technicians to find the HB level. Those found anaemic are given 3 months medicines free of cost. They are also enlightened on taking low cost nutritious food by adding iron rich food items in the diet. A 2nd review is conducted after six months to ensure complete elimination of anaemia from the particular community.

During the period, total 128 programmes were conducted and around 14310 beneficiaries were tested. 5163 were found anaemic and 1600 were cured.

2. One-day Awareness Programme

We believe that prevention is better than cure and as such AIWC's emphasis is to generate awareness among women on various issues like legal, environment, maternal and child healthcare, health, sanitation and nutrition, female foeticide and infanticide, consumer rights, climate change, women's safety and many more. Apart from panel discussion and deliberation, street plays, rallies, and few other output methods are used for awareness generation.

Branches across India have been very active in conducting such programmes on a wide range of topics and some of them have had very successful outcome. It is worth highlighting that an awareness programme on cleanliness and environment conducted by Kakinada branch resulted in their getting a CSR project from ONGC for a long term.

During 2017-2019, Total 518 awareness programmes were conducted by branches reaching out to around 46200 beneficiaries.

3. Health Camps

AIWC has been conducting various health camps for women and children for detection of anaemia, bone density, thyroid, cancer, breast feeding etc. Our target beneficiaries are mostly women in rural area, slums and urban poor. The aim is to provide free medical check up and medicines to deserving people. Proper guidance on diet etc. is also provided.

The objectives are:-

- a) To provide specific health service to women and children at one place.
- b) Creating awareness of women's right to health services.
- c) Information on nutritious foods, balanced diet to remove malnutrition
- d) Serious illness will be referred to hospitals.
- e) Laboratory arrangements for testing of blood etc.
- f) Follow-up of patients

A total of 182 health camps were held during 2017.

LONG TERM PROGRAMMES:

1. Integrated Literacy and Skill Development Programme

The one year module links literacy with skill to help women become self reliant, enhance their capacity for financial empowerment and provides supplementary education opportunities to their children.

The program is comprehensive as it covers the following categories:

- Women under Skill and Literacy program

4. Part Time Dispensary Programme

AIWC through its branches is running long duration programs like integrated literacy and skill development, Mother and child and Day care for the old, Udaan etc. These centres are run in rented accommodation and the amount paid as rent is covered under the budgetary head allocated for these programs. Usually there is no activity in these centres in the evening hours. In order to fully utilize the space and the infrastructure provided to run these centres, it is proposed that these branches /or other branches having space to run the dispensary may be offered to run AIWC dispensary after 4p.m. for 2 hours 2/3 days a week) Branch can charge Rs. 10/ per patient for making health cards.

During this period 34 programmes were sanctioned and 6045 patients benefited from this programme.

5. Enhancing Life Skill Development Program for Boys and Girls

The percentage of adolescents in India is increasing and encompasses one fourth of the total population.

Most adolescents are at vulnerable situation and the complexity piles up with lack of appropriate information. They have also to deal with few health issues like anaemia and malnutrition during this period. Girls and boys face different types of challenges and situations which needs to be dealt with sensitively.

AIWC has been implementing "Enhancing Life Skills Training Programme" through the branches which cover various topics such as adolescent mental & physical health and related problems, social issues, peer pressure, relationship with elders, career counselling, stress management and social media responsibilities through participatory approach. A revised module and step by step guide was prepared in 2018 and shared with branches and has been found very beneficial.

During this period 97 programmes were sanctioned and around 3627 patients benefited.

6. Socio-economic (Micro Credit) programmes

AIWC provides small financial support to SHG members through branches for setting up micro enterprise. Following socio economic loans were provided to branches in the last 3 years:

In 2017-19 AIWC supported 50 crèches through 25 branches. Till date around 1319 children have benefited.

IV. NEW PROGRAM INITIATIVES

(i) Women Empowerment Cell - Capacity Building Training on Project Management Tools- Training of Trainers

The biggest strength of AIWC is her members who volunteer to provide dedicated service to the community and engage with AIWC to implement all the programmes. Number of members has been increasing over the years across India. While many of the members come from professional background, majority of them do need capacity building to be aware of AIWC's objectives and welfare delivery methodology. Based on the feedback received from members, it was felt that setting up of an 'Empowerment Cell' in each zone will benefit the members to a large extent. A two day capacity building training for trainers (TOT) module was therefore, designed and implemented covering topics, like project management, survey, report writing, project proposal, necessity of documents, financial management, communication, leadership and monitoring and evaluation. All the zones, except the Centre zone have conducted the TOT. Better understanding of project management tools is expected to add value to AIWC's empowerment programmes and make them more meaningful.. Around 256 branch members and volunteers have so far benefited through this initiative. Some of the trainers have also conducted dissemination training in their branch for the benefit of their members.

(ii) Gender Sensitization programme to create "Gender Promoters" in co-educational schools

The term "Gender" is widely interpreted by different people in different ways, sometimes even loosely associated or addressed to certain things in a stereotypical manner. For instance, the very concept of "gender issues" literally translates into women issues for many- and they are not alone. In India, gender bias rears its head right from the early stages of a person's life and society and more significantly, their next generation. Any variation of the stereotype or resistance against patriarchal thinking is often stigmatized within families themselves, let alone society at large. It is therefore crucial to introduce and encourage gender sensitization right from the very start, so that young boys and girls realize early that everyone deserves equal opportunity in life and has a fundamental right to it. The growth and development of any country depends on men and women being equal contributors and recipients of the right to live with dignity. It is also the need of the hour in these troubled times, where we are witnessing an alarming increase in gender-based violence and a growing societal insensitivity towards girls and women. Programme manual has been prepared and shared with branches.

(iii) Partial financial assistance to branches for expansion/upgradation of their schools under 'Value based AIWC Schools-a step towards Gender Sensitivity and respect for women" project

The other objective is to establish "Value based AIWC Schools-a step towards Gender Sensitivity and respect for women" This special feature will help nurture young minds towards respect for women. Kindly include Value education as part of the school curriculum that provides scope for imbibing values and enable girls and boys to have an insight into the intricate fabric of society. They need to understand that thoughtfulness; regard, respect and concern for others will pave the way for smoother running of society than aggressiveness, impudence and gross disregard for others' feelings. A training manual has been prepared for the implementation of this programme.

Innovative Programmes

It was strongly felt that mostly branches conduct programmes designed and sanctioned by Head office. To encourage branches to design their own need based programmes based on the requirement of the community they work with and to ensure that AIWC is able to deliver meaningful service to the society, branches have been encouraged to suggest 'innovative programmes'. Some of the branches took up the challenge and came forward with very relevant programmes. Details of such programmes are:

- Non- formal education programme for economically weaker class children
- Nutrition Support for Tuberculosis Patients
- Solar dried product promotion
- Family Wellness Centre
- Cyber crime

One time grant

There was a request from the Kommaragiri rural branch, Kakinada for sanctioning the grant for looms for the women weavers of the village. Most of the residents of the village are traditional weavers and the family income is primarily depending on the compensation provided by the weavers' cooperative based on the number of saris woven. AIWC had provided set of 10 looms earlier when the village was adopted for overall empowerment. The branch was visited and inspected by the Secretary General and thereafter 10 looms were provided to the women weavers of the village who were part of the SHG. Group of young women were also trained in weaving.

V. INTERNATIONAL PROJECTS

(i) Advocacy and monitoring and review on SDG's supported by APWLD Thailand

AIWC collaborated with Asia Pacific Forum for Women, Law, and Development to monitor and review the sustainable development goals with a gender lens. The project was titled, 'Monitoring and Review of Sustainable Development Goals in India', under which AIWC organized one national consultation in New Delhi and two regional consultations in Hyderabad and Kolkata. The consultations were participated by relevant government officials from the central and state both levels, stakeholders from the community and interested individual to discuss accountability and inclusion of women in the monitoring and review process. State governments are equally active in implementing SDGs in India at all levels.

Since AIWC's programmes align with several of SDGs, we had planned to organize consultations across India through our branches to monitor and review the SDG's goal (Goal no 3,4,5,& 13). Government officials, allied agencies, NGOs and social workers, academic researchers, students and members of AIWC participated in the consultation meeting.

The project aims to study the State climate change policy, analyse status of gender, conduct interviews with stake holders, identify gaps, prepare status quo report, hold advocacy workshops, study climate change related policies and finally prepare recommendation to be shared with government authorities. The project was extended to Chennai and Kolkata as well in 2018. TREASURER'S ADDRESS

Dear Members of AIWC,

We are all gathered here in these beautiful surroundings of the Brahma Kumaris' Retreat once again. This is where our Team took office in January, 2017. The past 3 years of our term has been an important learning curve for me. When I joined AIWC head office in 1998, a very senior member said to me – There are two types of people in this world: those who come to give something to others and those who come to take something for themselves. Try to be a Giver not a Taker. In these 3 years I hope I have been the former and served AIWC faithfully. I am grateful for the tradition set by previous Treasurers before me who have set an example and kept the organization on a firm footing. I am sure the new Treasurer will also follow in these footsteps.

Income Tax assessment – Assessment year 2017-18(FY 2016-17)

The Income Tax assessment of AIWC for the Assessment Year 2014-15 was completed in August 2016 and a NIL Assessment Order dated 08.08.2016 was issued to us by the Income Tax department.

- After completion of the assessment for the Assessment Year 2014-15 as above, our returns were not taken up for scrutiny and assessment, for the 2 subsequent Assessment Years i.e. 2015-16 & 2016-17.
- Now, in May 2019, the Office of the Assistant Commissioner of Income Tax, Circle Exempt 1(1), Delhi has issued a Notice under section 142(1) of the Income Tax Act, 1961, for scrutiny/assessment of the Income Tax return filed by AIWC for the Assessment Year 2017-18.
- As per the preliminary questionnaire attached with the Notice sent by email, there are many points to which detailed replies have to be given with supporting documents. All the evidence/information is to be furnished Online electronically in É-Proceeding' facility through our Account in é-filing' website of the Income Tax Department.
- The AIWC Accounts Department was in the process of preparing the required replies and supporting documents to be furnished to the Income Tax Department, electronically in É-Proceeding' facility. The liaison work with the Income Tax department is being done by Sh. K.V.S.R. Krishna, Chartered Accountant, of M/s V. Sankar Aiyar & Co. The 1st reply to the above questionnaire was filed on 27.05.2019 online electronically in "E- proceeding facility through "e- filing " website of Income Tax Dept.

- As the scrutiny / assessment is for the Assessment Year 2017-18 (i.e. for the Financial Year 2016-17) it involves a lot of extra effort and time for taking out old records and preparing the replies as per their questionnaire, tallying with the Balance Sheet of the year under scrutiny etc. . It took us just 6 months for completing the Assessment Proceedings because our paper work is done properly.
- The committee would be pleased to know that the Income tax Assessment of AIWC for the Financial Year 2016-17 (Assessment Year 2017-18) has also been completed now. NIL Assessment Order in original passed by the Office of the Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax Circle Exempt 1(1), Delhi, Order No ITBA/AST/S/143(3)/2019-20/1022008163(1) dt 10/12/2019 has been received from Income Tax Department

- Based on the exemption status of the Society, we are applying and obtaining every year, Certificate u/s 197 from the Income Tax Department for non deduction of TDS in respect of interest income and rental income received every year by the society and the income is received without deduction of TDS. As the certificate is issued only for the Financial Year we have to apply every year with the supporting documents, for issue of this Certificate, which means we need to keep all our papers updated and correct so that we are on a firm footing. We have obtained the Certificate for the Current Year F.Y 2019-20 from the Income Tax department.
- Starting from the Financial Year 2019-20 onwards, online application has been made mandatory for obtaining Certificate u/s 197 for non deduction of tax at source. FIXED ASSETS REGISTER:

The observations of our Statutory Auditors about Fixed Assets Register are:

- "The Society has started preparing a Fixed Assets Register and additions relating to the past five years have been updated. We have advised the accounts department to get updating further back for five to seven years, so that more than 95% of the assets could be captured in the fixed assets register. Once, this process is complete the physically verified assets are to be compared with the FAR and discrepancies, if any, would be adjusted in the books. This may be given top priority so that the whole exercise would come to natural and beneficial conclusion".
- The work of preparation of Fixed Assets Register from the Financial Year 2011-12 to 2016-17, was assigned to M/s Gupta R S & Co., Chartered Accountants. The firm has been dissolved and now the firm name is M/s Mayank Aggarwal & Co., Chartered Accountants. They have completed the 1st phase. Conclusion:

It is my sincere hope that I have been able to convey the details of the Budget. My term as Treasurer concludes with this meeting. Though I have executed my duty with sincerity there are several areas that need to be controlled and strengthened. (Social audit of programmes, energy audit etc.). I am sure the next team will continue the good work and also introduce more reforms and controls to keep the finances of AIWC in good shape.

Before I conclude, I would like to thank our President, Mrs. Rakesh Dhawan, and Secretary General Mrs. Kalyani Raj. We are grateful to our Patrons for their constant vigil, guidance and counsel without whom we would not be here today. I would also like to thank our Finance Manager Ms. Biji Sebastian and her Accounts Team Ms. Devi, Ms. Deepthy, Ms. Anuradha and Mr. Sonu for their exemplary dedication & for their quite adherence to discipline. I am proud to say our Finance Dept. continues to remain the stoic backbone of AIWC. Lastly thank all of you, AIWC friends, once again for your continued support and encouragement.

ACTIVITIES OF AIWC TRUSTSEducation | Health | Old Age

ACTIVITIES OF AIWC TRUSTS

A Background:

It was 10 years ago in the year 2010, the Standing Committee of AIWC with the approval of its Members decided to set up 3 Trusts in order to carry out its various activities more effectively such as providing financial support for pursuing professional courses to the meritorious girl students coming from the economically challenged background so as to make them self reliant, improving health and hygiene of women living in the poverty stricken rural slums which lacked basic health facilities, providing care to the elderly women who were deprived of company and needed social support for survival. After doing the initial spade work, the following 3 Trusts of AIWC were finally established in February'2011:

- 1. AIWC Public Charitable Trust for Education.
- 2. AIWC Public Charitable Trust for Health.
- 3. AIWC Public Charitable for Old Age Homes, Orphanages etc.

Progress made by the Trusts:

1. EDUCATION TRUST

The Trust provides financial assistance to the meritorious girl students who come from the economically weaker background to pursue higher education in professional courses so as to enable them to become financially independent.

During the last 3 years from 2017-18 to 2019-20 the Trust disbursed financial grant of Rs.76.42 lakhs to 357 girl applicants pursuing various professional courses such as B.Tech in various fields, Nursing, MBBS, BDS, B.Ed etc. There are 5 bright students doing MBBS course.

One girl has topped the University in M.Sc Food Sciences and Nutrition and has won a Gold Medal in the year 2019. She has also qualified the UGC NET examination and has bagged a job as Assistant Professor at a salary of Rs. 1 lakh per month.

2. HEALTH TRUST

During the last 3 years the Trust focused on implementing the 'Swasth Sudhar Village' programme which is aimed at improving the health standards of women living in the rural slums which are deprived of bare minimum health facilities. A complete health check up is done and medicines are provided. Besides, nutrition is also provided to those women who are anaemic. Vegetables are grown in the village adopted for the programme. Vegetable soup and other nutritional food is served to these women for improving their health conditions. Each selected Branch conducts 3-4 camps in a year with 60 to 80 beneficiaries in each camp where a complete health check up is done by the Doctors. Laboratory tests are conducted and medicines provided to the ailing women. During the last 3 years funds of Rs.18 lakhs were received from the AIWC for running the Programme and 11 Branches of AIWC across the country took part in the programme.

3. OLD AGE TRUST

The Trust is running the 'Day Care Centres' for Women Sr. Citizens through the various Branches of AIWC spread across different zones in the Country. The elderly women feel happy coming to these Centres where they share their problems, exchange ideas and enjoy being in the company of their fellow Senior Citizens. They coming to the centre works as stress buster for them and they feel quite comfortable. Besides skill training is also provided to those capable and interested. During the last 3 years the Trust received funds of Rs.42 lakhs from the AIWC for running the 'Day Care Centres'. At present the Trust is running 15 such Centres through the various Branches of AIWC across the country.
